Dear sir:

I am requesting that the Washington International Development Report be placed on the mailing list for press releases from your organization.

Although still in its planning stages, the Washington International Development Report will be an objective source of information and analysis on world development issues as perceived by official and unofficial Washington. The aim of the newsletter is to report on development issues the way members of Congress, high-ranking government officials, and the growing number of public interest groups view them.

In short, the Washington International Development Report will present its readers with a policy-oriented viewpoint on world development issues.

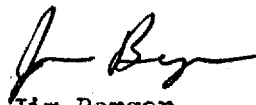

The report will be issued twice every month beginning in January 1980.

If you have any questions or need further information, please feel free to contact me at 20 Franklin Avenue, Silver Spring, Maryland, 20901, or by calling me at (area code 301) 587-1949.

Your cooperation is appreciated.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Jim Berger,
Editor, WIDR
